All –

It has been a while since our last workgroup meeting. I thought I would provide you with a quick update on where things stand, give you a head's up about a conference call next week, and send you the revised preamble and rule language.

Final Agency Review (FAR) is currently slated for the end of May 2013. We are still working on the economic analysis but hope to have a decent draft by the end of the month. In the meantime, I'd like to ask that you all spend some quality time reviewing the attached draft preamble and rule language. Significant changes have been made to the rule language since you last saw it. We received quite a few comments asking us to make the rule language easier to follow and to clarify particular requirements. As you read through this version of the proposed rule, please make note of any inconsistencies or awkward phrasings that could lead to misinterpretations. I ask that you provide comment by COB Wednesday, April 24. I have included both a clean version of the document as well as a track changes version. Please provide your edits and comments in the clean version.

We will have a conference call next Thursday, April 11. We will use the hour to highlight the changes that have been made to the draft document and discuss any potential issues that need to be addressed before FAR. Look for a meeting invitation soon.

As always, feel free to give me a call at any point in time if you have questions or concerns.

Thank you,

Andrea
